Event Recap

INCENDIO - Brandeis LatinX Student Organization

BLSO hosted its annual cultural show, Incendio, celebrating one of the most cherished traditions across Latinx and Latin American communities: a Quinceañera. A Quinceañera is a coming-of-age celebration that honors a young woman's 15th birthday, symbolizing her transition into adulthood.

This year's Incendio featured BLSO executive board members portraying family members, with one member taking on the special role of the Quinceañera herself. The court was represented by Brandeis Sazón, the university's first Latinx dance group. The event opened with a lively performance by the Mariachi Veritas de Harvard, followed by student performer Isidora Bustos and a guest performance by San Simón Caporales.

We ended the night, as every Quinceañera should, with vibrant music from DJ Naeda. This event served as a joyful way to share a beloved cultural tradition with the Brandeis community and offer an immersive experience for those who had never attended a Quinceañera before.

Student Leader Of The Month

Name: Mai Al Shaaban

Major: Applied Mathematics and Computer Science

Class Year/Year of Graduation: Senior, Class of 2026

On Campus/Off Campus Job Title: Student Union Head Treasurer

What is your favorite part of your job/role on campus?

I've been in the US Treasury since my second week at Brandeis, and it's been a big part of my college life ever since! My favorite part is that this position gave me the background to take financial responsibility and, in turn, help the student body with their clubs financial transactions.

What have you learned in that role?

Because of the treasury, I've picked up so many hard skills, processing payments, managing budgets, and understanding how student clubs' finances work on campus. With over 150 clubs, it has been very interesting to explore Brandeis student life outside the classroom as well!!

What are some things you enjoy doing in your free time?

If the weather's nice, I love going on mountain hikes or long walks. If not, I'm indoors crocheting, catching up with friends from my hometown or watching old TV shows.

Club Spotlight

Brandeis Model United Nations

Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic club based on simulating the United Nations General Assembly. During collegiate conference competitions, delegates assume the role of a character or country, write and deliver speeches, and collaborate with students from across the world to write mock legislation. MUN helps future lawyers, politicians, foreign affairs ministers (and more) gain valuable experiences in public speaking, speech writing, and debate, as well as building a range of knowledge on historical and current events. The fast-paced environment also helps participants develop critical thinking and leadership skills necessary for tackling real world issues. We are sending delegates to two conferences this semester, The National Collegiate Security Conference (NCSC) in Washington D.C., and The Boston Area Regional MUN Conference (BarMUN). While delegate selection for these upcoming conferences has been finalized, we encourage anyone interested in getting involved to join us Fridays 5:30-6:30pm in SCC 313 to learn more. Meetings are beginner friendly, and will help prospective delegates to build a foundation of knowledge necessary to join us at a conference next semester. Additionally, join us on CampusGroups and follow us on Instagram @munbrandeis for updates on upcoming events!

Student Volunteer of the Month

Name: Elizabeth Ford

Majors: Health: Science, Society, and Policy and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

Minors: Community Engaged Scholars Program and Sexuality and Queer Studies

Why do they volunteer?

I volunteer because, after growing up in a rural, close-knit community, I know how important it is for community members to contribute to fostering a community that cares for all of its members. I volunteer so I can give back to the community that has molded me and nurtured my personal growth. I am the daughter of two teachers, so I know how impactful it is to have someone at home who can help you with homework, and how much teachers wish they could provide one-on-one help for everyone. With this perspective in mind, I was inspired to volunteer after hearing about General Tutoring's mission to provide one-on-one educational support for kids who don't have a parent at home to help or can't afford tutoring, thereby removing the financial barrier to education. The most meaningful experiences I have had are receiving emails from parents who express how much our program has impacted them and how well their students are doing! After receiving many emails from parents on our waiting list, it is always reinvigorating to hear how our program is making a difference.

Springfest 2026 Survey

The Campus Activities Board (CAB) is the official programming board providing campus-wide entertainment for Brandeis student body. We are run by students, for students. We want your input on who you want us to bring to campus for the Springfest 2026 Concert!

Complete this survey [fukmqleab.cc.rs6.net] and help us create the experiences you want. Feel free to suggest any additional names/ideas!

Reminder: Please note that the artist we can book depends on their availability and costs. While an artist's name may appear on this survey, it does not guarantee their appearance at Springfest. These questions are designed to give us a general idea of the types of shows and artists you're interested in.

You'll learn how to:

- get involved and when to start
- identify your interests
- search for research opportunities
- reach out to potential faculty mentors

- apply for funding
- present and share your research or creative project
- get support and advice at all steps in the process

Snacks and drinks will be provided, too!

Center for Spiritual Life Upcoming event:

Peace Circle - November 12

Join us for a monthly, short, nonreligious gathering at 12:15 - 12:30 pm at the Peace Circle (between library and Usdan). We welcome all to be part of these circles for peace in our world, our hearts, and our community. The gathering consists of a reflective moment led by a chaplain, and a period of silence. If you are unable to attend, we will be tabling next to the Peace Circle at 12 pm and invite you to write down an intention for peace, small or large.

Mindful Moments with Danielle Mckinney: Tell Me More - November 12

Join Graduate Buddhist Chaplain Intern Kien Le at the Rose Art Museum at 3-3:30pm for a last meditation around the topic of “rest” as inspired by the works of Danielle Mckinney in the Rose Art Museum. The artist has said: “Each canvas is a portal - a place where I explore the soul, the self, and what it means to be free within one’s own space.” The topic of this meditation will be based on the quote: “Art was my safe place.”

Plan to stay after the meditation to further explore the exhibits.

Religious Observances

Brandeis is rich with religious diversity. Holidays celebrated by the Brandeis community this November include:

- All Saints Day and All Souls Day (Nov 1 and 2) Since the early centuries of Christianity, these two days have been observed as days to remember the dead. Eventually November 1 was marked as a day to remember those in the past who have lived holy lives and November 2 became a day more focused on all the deceased, hence called All Souls Day. All Saints Day is a special feast day in the Catholic Church. Both feasts recognize the connection that exists between the living and those who have passed on.
- Advent (November 30 - December 24) Advent, from the Latin “coming,” is a season of four weeks of preparation for the coming of Christ, which Christians commemorate on December 25. These four weeks are a time of joyful preparation. The season is often marked by Scripture readings about preparing for the coming of the Messiah. The use of candles on an Advent wreath signifies the themes of Love, Joy, Peace, and Hope.

For more information on these and other holidays, visit the Center for Spiritual Life's [Guide to Religious Observances \[fukmqleab.cc.rs6.net\]](http://fukmqleab.cc.rs6.net). Did we miss a spiritual observance that is important to you? Please reach out to slife@brandeis.edu.
